SR ENGLISH - Section B & C

SECTION-B

VI) Read the passage given below. Answer the questions that follow:

5 x 1 = 5 M

The mind is a superb instrument if used rightly. Used wrongly, however, it becomes destructive. To put it more accurately, it is not so much that you use your mind wrongly you usually don't use it at all. It uses you. This is a disease. You believe that your are your mind. That is a delusion. The instrument has taken you over.

Just because you solve a crossword puzzle or build an atom bomb doesn't mean that you use your mind. Thinking has become a disease. Just as dogs love to chew bones, the mind loves to get its teeth into problems. That's why it does crossword puzzles and builds atom bombs. You have no interest in either. Let me ask this: can you be free of your mind whenever you want to? Have you found the off button?

Then the mind is using you. You are unconsciously identified with it, so you don't even know that you are its slave.

Sir

Sub: Complaint about bad condition of roads in Ambedkar Colony - Submitted - Reg.

I am a resident of Ambedkar colony in Vijayawada and I wish to draw your kind attention towards the bad condition of roads and drains in our area. Day by day the conditions of roads are becoming worse.

The roads are damaged due to the recent rains and the pit holes are formed on the roads. In our area, the drains are blocked due to poor drainage system. These broken drains and uncovered manholes become the cause of the accidents.

So, it is very difficult for pedestrians to travel during night. I request you to kindly publish this issue in your newspaper, so that it will reach to the authorities concerned and the problem can be solved.

Thanking you sir

Yours sincerely

XI) Write a short paragraph of about 8 lines describing the process

Write a short paragraph of 8 lines about daily activities

OR

Describe the process of making sprouts.

A:

IDEAL DAILY ROUTINE

I usually get up at 5 a.m. Then I brush my teeth and have a cup of tea. Next I go for a morning walk and return by 7a.m. Next I take bath. After taking bath I have breakfast. Later I study up to 9 a.m. Then I make myself ready to go to college. I take my books and lunch box and wait at the bus stop for our college bus. Our classes start at 10 a.m. We have lunch break from 1.p.m. to 2 p.m. During this time I take lunch. Our classes continue from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. After 5 p.m I go to play ground to play games for some time. I come back home at 6.30 p.m. I take bath and watch TV for some time. I have dinner at 8.00 p.m . After dinner I study upto 10 p.m. Then I go to bed.

PROCESS OF MAKING SPROUTS

First, we have to pick and clean the mixed beans. Next, we have to wash the beans for 3 – 4 times in clean water. After that, in a big bowl soak the beans with the water covering the jar with a double layer of cheesecloth and secure with a rubber band one inch above the beans. Soak the beans overnight. After 24 hours, drain and rinse the beans through the cloth, then drain again. Next, we have to store the jar in a dark place on its side, propping up the base so excess water drains onto paper towels. Rinse and drain the beans or lentils twice a day. After 36 hours, the beans or lentils will grow tails and be ready to eat, but they taste best when the tails are about 1 1/2 times as long as the beans or lentils. Finally, rinse well, cover the jar loosely and refrigerate for up to 3 days.

SECTION-B*VI. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: 5x1=5M

Fifty feet away three male lions lay by the road. They didn't appear to have a hair on their heads. Noting the color of their noses (leonine noses darken as they age, from pink to black), Craig estimated that they were six years old-young adults. "This is what we came to see. They are really maneless." Craig, a professor at the University of Minnesota, is arguably the leading expert on the majestic Serengeti lion, whose head is mantled in long, thick hair. He and Peyton West, a doctoral student who has been working with him in Tanzania, had never seen the Tsavo lions that live some 200 miles east of the Serengeti. The scientists had partly suspected that the maneless male lions were adolescents mistaken for adults by amateur observers. Now they know better.

The Tsavo research expedition was mostly Peyton's show. She had spent several years in Tanzania, compiling the data she needed to answer a question that ought to have been answered long ago: Why do lions have manes? It's the only cat wild or domestic, that displays such ornamentation.

Questions:

1. Name the two scientists in the passage.
2. State true or false: Serengeti lions are maneless.
3. Where do Tsavo lions live?
4. Pick the adjective in the passage which means 'pertaining to or characteristic of a lion.'
5. Write the noun form of the verb 'estimated'.

In the evening the other children returned to the boat. They laughed and talked, they were very tired. They did not see that Tom and Becky were not there. The boat took them back to St.Petersburg.

Huck saw the boat but he did not know about the picnic. The mothers of St.Petersburg did not like him. They never invited him to birthday picnics. But tonight Huck was not interested in the birthday picnics. He was interested in Injun Joe's treasure. He hid behind a tree and watched an old house. 'Injun Joe's in that house, ' he thought, 'I'll stay here and wait. When he comes out I'll follow him and I'll find the treasure.' It was late and very dark. Soon two men came out. It was Injun Joe and his friend. Huck followed them quietly. 'They're going to Widow Dougals's House, 'thought Huck, 'But why?' Suddenly the two men stopped. Injun Joe said, 'Many years ago Widow Dougals's husband was very cruel to me. Now I want to hurt the widow. I want to cut her face, her nose and her ears. And you must help me.'

Questions:

1. Why were Tom and Becky not with the other children?
2. Why did Huck not know about the picnic?
3. What was Huck interested in that night?
4. Why were the two men going to Widow Dougals's house?

Earthworms are the answer for every garden problem, according to Harold John Weigel. They can increase crop production, turn and freshen soil, and produce faster growth. Simply take care of the earthworms, and the earthworms will take care of the garden. Weigel is extremely enthusiastic about earthworms. They are tremendous creatures, "the intestines of the Earth," Weigel says quoting Charles Darwin. Weigel is so excited about the benefits of worms that he is writing a book about them. He gardens using thousands of earthworms. He has persuaded his wife to put worms in her houseplant pots. He even suggests eating worms, which he claims, are 70 percent protein. He has dreams of armies of earthworms helping to replace topsoil in the 74 country. It is a fact, he says, the topsoil is disappearing every year through erosion. Wind and water carry away the soil and nature needs centuries to replace it.
